INTRODUCTION

This Pre Revision Question Bank contains exam standard questions all with answers updated to Finance Act 2025. This question bank forms an important part of your preparation for the examination - question practice is the key to passing exams.

You will need a copy of the ATT Tax Tables 2026 (included in this bank) either as a hard copy on your desk or as a pdf on your screen or on a second screen/device.

Format of the exam

All the ATT exams are 3.5 hours and will have a mixture of computational and written questions carrying from 10 to 25 marks each, usually split into shorter subsections with marks allocated to each subsection, with no question choice. There are 98 marks for technical content and 2 marks for presentation skills available.

Presentation Skills Marks

The presentation skills marks on this paper will be awarded as follows:

2 marks - Presentation is very good. Full sentences are used where appropriate throughout. Answers flow well and are in a logical order. Explanations clearly relate to the question scenario.

1 mark - Broadly the presentation is acceptable. Full sentences are used where appropriate, although some minor lapses are acceptable. Answers generally flow well and in a logical order. Explanations contain a reasonable reference to the question scenario.

0 marks - There is little effort to use full sentences where they would be expected. The answers do not flow well, with ideas not presented in a logical order. Explanations are mainly regurgitation of legislation/ learning materials with limited reference to the question scenario.

There are likely to be email/letter style questions and these (together with other questions) will contribute towards awarding the two marks. There will not be separate marks for formats but the absence of the required formats would reduce the likelihood of gaining a full two marks.

Using this question bank

You should attempt each question as if you were in the real exam. Try to avoid just reading the answers to questions - it is all too easy to nod as you read our answer saying "yes I know that point, yes I understand that advice given" - the test is would you have actually put those points in your answer? You won't find this out unless you type up the answers and we therefore recommend you use the on-screen version of this QB. Ensuring you type up "proper" answers also gives you a good idea of how long an exam standard answer will take you to produce.

We recommend you allocate 2 minutes per mark which leaves 14 minutes to be split as you like between some reading time at the start of the exam and some final review time at the end of the exam.

Reviewing your answers

It is essential to read through your answer when you have finished typing it (within the time allocated to that question). We thought it might be useful at this stage to pass on some tips about how to review your answers effectively – before you look at the model answer.

Remember the first thing the marker will do is read your answer through as a whole – what overall impression are you giving of your ability? Have you put the marker in a good mood as soon as they see your script or are they going to be dreading marking what you have handed in?

Key presentation considerations include using proformas, spacing your answer out, cross referencing your workings and using subheadings and short paragraphs.

You may be able to make some small corrections at this review stage – you may find you have missed out a vital word such as “not” or you may at this stage think of another point or two to add while reading your answer. This approach could increase your marks much more effectively than carrying on with the point you were making before you stopped to do this final review.

Reviewing the model answer

Review critically both your answer and the model answer. Are there points in the model answer which you could have included in your answer to get extra marks? Are there points you have included which, with the benefit of hindsight, you should have left out? You may have included valid points which are not included in the model answer.

ETHICS

ATT Papers 1 to 6 are each expected to each contain questions that have parts testing Ethics topics for between 3 and 7 marks in total across the paper.

The chapters from the ATT/CIOT Ethics text book “Professional Responsibilities and Ethics for Tax Practitioners” (6th edition) that are included in the Papers 1 to 6 syllabuses are:

Chapter 4	New clients and engagements
Chapter 5	Client service
Chapter 6	Objectivity (including conflicts of interest)
Chapter 7	Other client handling issues
Chapter 8	Charging for services
Chapter 9	Complaints
Chapter 10	Ceasing to act
Chapter 19	The Fundamental Principles
Chapter 20	The Standards for Tax Planning
Chapter 21	Help sheet A: Submission of tax information and 'tax filings'
Chapter 22	Help sheet B: Tax advice
Chapter 23	Help sheet C: Dealing with errors
Chapter 24	Help sheet C2: Dealing with errors – Members in business
Chapter 25	Help sheet D: Requests for data by HMRC
Chapter 26	Help sheet E: Members' personal tax affairs

The required depth of knowledge is “Principles” ie candidates are expected to have an awareness that a principle exists and its main thrust.

To get you familiar with the type of questions that may be examined, elements of ethics may appear in some of the questions in this Pre Revision Question Bank and may also be tested in the Pre Revision and Revision mock exams. There are also some short questions for Ethics at the back of this bank. Attempting these questions will be good preparation for the exams.

QUESTIONS

1. Dorothy, aged 35, works for Toto plc on a gross salary of £75,000. In 2025/26 PAYE of £22,000 was deducted at source.

Dorothy used her own car to travel 12,500 miles on the company's business in 2025/26 and Toto plc reimbursed her at a rate of 50p per mile.

On 6 April 2023 Dorothy borrowed a specialist piece of equipment from her employer and kept it until 5 January 2026 when she bought it from Toto plc for £250. The value of this piece of equipment on 6 April 2023 was £5,200 and it was worth £1,000 when she bought it in 2025/26.

Dorothy also has a small property portfolio, consisting of three properties: Straw Cottage, Tin Hall and Lion House.

Straw Cottage had been let for many years at £12,000 per annum, payable on the 1st of each month in advance. However, from 1 August 2025, this was, following arm's length negotiations, decreased to £10,000 per annum.

Tin Hall was occupied by Dorothy's nephew throughout 2025/26 at a rent of £4,000 per annum, paid monthly in arrears, which was significantly below the market value.

Despite Dorothy's best efforts to find a tenant, Lion House has been empty for a year or so but, following some refurbishment work, new tenants moved in on 1 May 2025 on a rent of £34,320 per annum, payable on the 1st day of each month in advance, with a two month initial rent-free period.

Expenses paid by Dorothy in relation to these properties during 2025/26 were:

	Straw Cottage	Tin Hall	Lion House

Mortgage interest	10,000	-	12,000
Water rates	250	350	650

Repairs to furniture	-	-	750
Adding a window to the attic extension	-	-	1,250
New bedroom furniture (previously none)			750
Replacement carpets			3,400

During 2025/26, Dorothy also received dividends of £5,000, bank interest of £11,250 and a dividend of £1,800 out of the rental profits of a real estate investment trust (REIT).

Dorothy makes an annual gift aid payment of £5,000.

Requirement:

Calculate the Income Tax payable by Dorothy for 2025/26. (20)

7. Ciaron owned 100 shares in Teddy Ltd, a trading company, which he acquired in May 2002 for £10,000. On 15 May 2025 he sold these shares to Scrumpy plc in return for consideration of £400,000. The consideration comprised:

	Value
	£
Cash	100,000
75,000 £1 Ordinary shares in Scrumpy plc	75,000
150,000 £0.50 Preference shares in Scrumpy plc	200,000
£30,000 loan notes in Scrumpy plc	25,000

Advance clearance was obtained from HM Revenue & Customs that paper for paper treatment was available in relation to the disposal.

The loan notes meet the conditions to be treated as Qualifying Corporate Bonds for tax purposes.

Ciaron encashed the loan notes for £30,000 on 15 February 2026 and sold half of the preference shares for £2 per share on 5 April 2026.

Some years ago, Ciaron had bought a Renault Clio for £14,000, with £12,000 of the price being attributable to the personalised number plate 1 TAX. He sold the car in August 2025 for £21,000 with £20,000 being attributed to the number plate.

In March 2025, Ciaron's house was burgled and a valuable painting stolen. The painting had been bought for £7,000 and, in July 2025, the insurance company paid Ciaron £28,000 as market value compensation for the loss. In September 2025 Ciaron spent £15,000 on a painting to replace the one that was stolen.

Ciaron works full time in advertising earning £80,000 per annum.

Requirement:

- 1) Calculate Ciaron's Capital Gains Tax liability for 2025/26, clearly explaining your treatment of the receipt from the insurance company. (11)

(You should assume that Business Asset Disposal Relief will not be available.)

Ciaron is considering subscribing £260,000 in the autumn of 2026 for 50% of the shares in a new unlisted trading company; the company would provide office cleaning services.

Requirement:

- 2) Outline the effect that such a subscription could have on Ciaron's 2025/26 Capital Gains Tax liability. (2)
- 3) Explain whether Income Tax relief is available in respect of the subscription. (2)

8. You are a tax manager at Chase & Co and have received the following e-mail from Rick Brown one of the partners at Chase & Co:

"Last Monday I had a meeting with a new client, Janaki Smith. Janaki has been working in Overseabia for the past five years and returned to the UK in March 2025. Janaki had always previously been resident in the UK. Janaki is keen to ensure her tax affairs are in order and in particular is seeking advice in relation to her Capital Gains Tax position. Janaki owns a number of assets in both the UK and Overseabia and has made a number of capital disposals in the tax year 2025/26. I explained the basic rules of Capital Gains Tax to her during the meeting and have agreed to provide a written summary of the matters we covered.

Janaki's husband is Overseabian and came to the UK for the first time with her in March 2025. His assets are mainly in Overseabia and he has not made any disposals since arriving in the UK. Janaki is keen to find out how her husband would be subject to tax in the UK if he were to make any capital disposals. I have agreed to provide her with a summary of the relevant rules.

I have undertaken all the necessary client acceptance requirements and would be grateful if you would prepare a letter for me to send to Janaki."

Requirement:

Write a letter to Janaki explaining:

- 1) Which individuals are chargeable to Capital Gains Tax, what is meant by a chargeable disposal, the annual exempt amount and rates of Capital Gains Tax. (5)
  - 2) What assets are chargeable to Capital Gains Tax. (Your answer should include six examples of exempt assets.) (4)
  - 3) When a chargeable disposal occurs and how any taxable gain is reported. (3)
  - 4) Whether she will be liable to Capital Gains Tax in respect of the disposal of her Overseabian assets. (1)
  - 5) How any gains made by her husband in respect of his Overseabian assets may be taxed. (7)

9. Your firm has a new client, Daphne Ralf. Daphne was sent a notice to file a tax return for 2023/24, along with several reminders, which she did not receive as they were sent to her old address. After seeing the television reminders about filing a tax return the following year, Daphne finally submitted her 2023/24 tax return on 28 February 2026, showing an outstanding Capital Gains Tax liability of £10,000 on disposals from her share portfolio. She paid this tax liability at the same time.

Daphne also sent this email yesterday, forwarded to you by your manager, Tom Collins.

“I bought a furnished bungalow on 1 February 2025 and started renting it from 6 April 2025. I increased the rent I charged my tenant from £1,160 to £1,360 per month from 6 November 2025. All rents were paid on the 6th day of each month.

I paid the following expenses during 2025/26:

	£
Repairs	720
Buy-to-let mortgage interest	6,240
New conservatory	19,300
Replacement bed	450
New sofa	500
Replacement of kitchen units	2,300
Insurance (for year 31 January 2027)	420

I also paid £390 insurance on 1 February 2025 for the year to 31 January 2026. My only other income for 2025/26 is a salary from employment of £65,000

I am thinking about putting the bungalow in joint names with my husband. He pays Income Tax at a lower rate than me and it will save us Capital Gains Tax when we sell it. Can you very briefly tell me if that is acceptable to the tax authorities? I am worried that they may think it sounds a bit dodgy.”

Tom is meeting with Daphne in a few days to discuss her tax position.

Requirement:

- 1) Explain the penalties which will be incurred by Daphne in respect of the late filing of her tax return and the late payment of tax. (7)
  - 2) Calculate Daphne’s property income assessment for 2025/26 including a brief explanation of the tax treatment of the mortgage interest. (5)
  - 3) Prepare a brief memo for Tom, explaining any tax or ethical issues raised by Daphne’s plans to put the bungalow in joint names with her husband. (3)

10. Ada has contacted you explaining that she arrived in the UK on 1 May 2025.

She works for Beta Ltd, a UK employer, with half of her duties being undertaken in the UK and half overseas.

Prior to her arrival she had never been to the UK before, having been born in Ruritania. She has been advised that she will be UK tax resident from her date of arrival and does not need advice on this issue.

Ada is also a shareholder in Green Ltd, a non-UK company. Green Ltd paid a dividend in June 2025 and Ada's dividend was paid into her bank account in Ruritania. Green Ltd usually pays an annual dividend each June.

In August 2025, Ada sold some of her shares in Green Ltd, realising a capital gain. The proceeds of that disposal are currently held in her bank account in Ruritania. She may sell the remainder of her Green Ltd shares in around five years' time to fund her early retirement.

Ada is enjoying her time in the UK and is considering staying beyond her employment. She hopes to work in the UK for about five more years. She is currently renting accommodation and would like to use some of the monies from both the June 2025 dividend and the proceeds from the share sale to purchase a property in the UK. She has heard in the past about tax reasons for 'keeping her money offshore' and wishes to understand if this applies to her.

Ada does not require advice with respect to overseas tax suffered on any of her overseas income. She has, however, asked you to identify any claims she should make to reduce her exposure to UK tax.

Requirement:

Write an email to Ada in which you:

12. Your firm advises Joe, a UK resident higher rate taxpayer, who owns two residences in the UK. One is in Cheltenham, where he and his family spend most of their time, and the other is a flat in London which is only used intermittently. The Cheltenham property was bought in February 2025 on the same date that they sold their previous family home. The London flat was bought about five years ago but has increased substantially in value since then. Joe lived in the flat during the week for the year immediately after acquisition whilst working full time in London. Since then, the flat has been available for the family to use as and when they are in London, which they do on a regular basis.

Joe is very tempted to sell the London flat as soon as possible as he feels that the value will begin to fall soon. He has been told by a friend that no Capital Gains Tax will be payable as it is his home. Joe has no intention of ever selling his current Cheltenham property.

Joe has also asked a question on behalf of his brother Milton, a higher rate taxpayer, who has been non-UK resident for over fifteen years and has not set foot in the UK in that period. For the past eleven years Milton has owned three properties in the UK. One is a residential property that he has never lived in but has been let to various tenants; another is a shop premises which is let to an unconnected retailer; the last is a residential property that has stood empty. Milton also owns shares in Trainers Plc a sports company in the UK.

The values of Milton's let property, the shop premises and the shares have risen sharply since acquisition while, in contrast, the vacant property has fallen in value. Milton is considering selling all three properties and the shares and would like to understand his tax position in relation to the disposals. Milton has given his authority for you to discuss his affairs with his brother Joe.

Requirement:

Write a letter to Joe in which you:

- 1) Explain the extent to which the gain arising on the disposal of the London flat will be subject to Capital Gains Tax if no action is taken, and what action Joe could take to mitigate the tax charge. (7)
- 2) Explain the extent to which Milton will suffer a Capital Gains Tax charge on the gains/losses arising on the disposal of his UK properties and shares. (8)

You are not required to discuss the reporting requirements or payment dates.

13. Vincent purchased a holiday cottage for £165,000 in January 2019. During October 2025 the property suffered extensive water damage as a result of flooding. The insurers valued the cottage at £80,000 following the flood and eventually paid Vincent £120,000 on 20 February 2026 to undertake the necessary repairs to the cottage. Vincent spent all the insurance proceeds renovating the property. On 3 May 2026 he sold the cottage for £345,000. The cottage has never been used as Vincent's main residence.

A number of assets were destroyed by the flood including an oil painting. Vincent received £12,500 compensation for the painting and managed to sell it to a local shop for £100. Vincent originally purchased the painting in 2008 for £5,000. Vincent decided to use the insurance proceeds to buy a new painting and reinvested £10,000 in doing this. He used the remaining £2,500 to pay for a holiday.

Vincent also owned the freehold on a shop unit. He bought it for £109,000 in November 2016. In May 2025 Vincent granted a 40-year lease on the shop unit to an unconnected individual for a premium of £52,000. The reversionary interest was valued at £202,000 in May 2025.

In December 2015, Vincent bought a 0.1% interest in the shares of Regal plc, a quoted trading company, for £5,750. In May 2025 he gave the shares to his wife, Alberta, as a birthday present when they were worth £8,430. In March 2026 Alberta gave the shares to their daughter, Alice, on her 21st birthday when they were worth £12,000.

Neither Vincent nor Alberta has ever worked for Regal plc.

Requirement:

- 1) Calculate the chargeable gains arising on the receipt of the insurance proceeds and the subsequent disposal of the cottage. (4)
  - 2) Explain how your answer to 1) would differ if Vincent had made a claim to rollover the insurance proceeds. (3)
  - 3) Calculate the chargeable gain arising on the disposal of the painting and the base cost for capital gains purposes of the new painting. (3)
  - 4) Calculate Vincent's chargeable gain on the grant of the lease (3)
  - 5) Explain how the May 2025 gift of shares from Vincent to Alberta will be treated and state the base cost of the shares for Alberta. (5)
- Explain how the March 2026 gift from Alberta to Alice will be treated for Capital Gains Tax purposes. Comment on whether any CGT reliefs might be available and state the base cost of the shares for and Alice. (5)

14. Newt, aged 50, has been employed by Rowling Ltd for eight years. His salary from 6 April 2025 was £78,000 per annum and he received the following benefits as part of his remuneration package:

Car

Newt was provided with a petrol-engined car which he used for both personal and business mileage. The car had a list price of £15,000 when acquired in 2022, but Newt had requested that the car be delivered with leather seats which cost an extra £1,000 and was not included within the list price. A month after taking delivery, he asked that a leather steering wheel cover be added at a cost of £75 and this was done within two months, without the car being off the road at any point. The car has CO<sub>2</sub> emissions of 122g/km. Newt handed the car back to Rowling Ltd when he ceased employment.

Rowling Ltd does not own the car but leases it at a cost of £450 per month. The company does not provide petrol for private mileage.

Loan

Rowling Ltd had made an interest-free loan of £20,000 to Newt when he first joined the company to help him to buy his home. This amount had remained outstanding for many years until £8,000 was repaid on 1 April 2025 and £5,000 on 5 September 2025. Newt paid off the balance of the loan on 5 October 2025.

On 5 October 2025, Rowling Ltd dismissed Newt from his employment, with the following payments being made:

- a) Statutory redundancy pay of £7,000
- b) £10,000 as a termination bonus as detailed in Newt's contract of employment.
- c) An ex-gratia payment of £48,000

Although Newt was on two months' notice, he received an additional payment of £5,000 to leave immediately and did not work out any of his notice period.

For 2025/26, PAYE of £19,000 has been deducted from his employment income and no payments on account have been made.

During 2025/26, Newt also received £2,500 of UK bank interest and UK dividends of £4,000.

Requirement:

Calculate the Income Tax payable by Newt for 2025/26 and state the date by which this will be due for payment. (18)

If Hayley purchases a car to use for her property business she can choose to deduct either:

- The proportion of actual motor expenses (including capital allowances) that relate to her business use, or [½]
- A flat rate expense for business miles travelled. [½]

As the proposed vehicle is a car, under the flat rate expense option she could claim:

- 45p per mile for her first 10,000 miles, and [½]
- 25p per mile for any additional miles. [½]

Hayley would not be able to claim her actual expenditure, or any capital allowances, in relation to the vehicle. [½]

Once Hayley has claimed the flat rate she would need to use this method each year while the car remains in the business. [½]

Hayley would also be able to deduct incidental expenses associated with her journeys to the property [½]

where they are incurred for business purposes. [½]

These could include tolls and parking fees. [½]

Dear Janaki

UK CAPITAL GAINS TAX

Further to our meeting last week I have outlined the matters we discussed which will hopefully provide you with a useful summary.

1) The charge to Capital Gains Tax

Individuals who are UK resident [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ] are subject to Capital Gains Tax (CGT) on all of their chargeable disposals. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

Non-UK residents are only subject to CGT on the disposal of:

- UK residential property and UK commercial property [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- shares in companies whose interests in UK land make up at least 75% of its gross assets. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

Chargeable disposals include:

- the sale of an asset or part of an asset [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- the gift of part or all of an asset [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- the receipt of insurance proceeds on the loss or destruction of an asset. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

Most individuals are eligible for an annual exempt amount, which is £3,000 for 2025/26 [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]. The annual exempt amount is deducted from the total chargeable gains in order to arrive at the figure of taxable gains for the year. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

Taxable gains are treated as the 'top slice' of income [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]. Normally gains falling within the basic rate band are subject to tax at 18% [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ] and any amounts above the basic rate band are subject to tax at 24%. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

Max 5

2) Assets chargeable to Capital Gains Tax

All assets are chargeable to Capital Gains Tax unless they are specifically exempted by legislation. [1]

Examples of exempt assets include:

- motor vehicles [½]
- betting and lottery winnings [½]
- medals (unless purchased) [½]
- foreign currency [½]
- wasting chattels (chattels with an estimated life of 50 years or less, such as racehorses) [½]
- non-wasting chattels if the gross proceeds and costs are both £6,000 or less. [½]

[Any six from the legislation – ½ each]

Max 4

3) When a chargeable disposal arises and how a taxable gain is reported

Generally, a chargeable disposal occurs on the date of contract [½]. If the contract is conditional, the date of disposal is the date the condition is met. [½]

If you dispose of a UK residential property and make a taxable gain, the disposal must be reported to HMRC on an online property return [½] within 60 days of completion of the disposal [½]. The disposal will also need to be reported on your self-assessment return. [½]

All other taxable disposals should be reported on your self-assessment tax return for the tax year in which the disposal is made [½]. Alternatively, they can be reported using an online real-time return anytime up to 31 December following the tax year of disposal. [½]

Max 3

4) Disposal of Overseasian assets

As you are UK tax resident you will be liable to Capital Gains Tax on any gains made on the disposal of your worldwide assets. [1]

Total 1

5) Your husband's Capital Gains Tax position

As 2025/26 is your husband's first year of UK residence [½] and he has not been tax resident in the UK in any of the previous ten years [½], he will be a 'qualifying new resident'. [1]

This means that he will be eligible to claim Foreign Income and Gains (FIG) relief [1] in respect of gains arising on the disposal of his Overseasian assets. [½]

As a result, any gains included in the claim will be exempt from UK CGT. [1]

Your husband will be able to take advantage of this relief for the first four tax years that he is UK resident. [1]

However, if he does make a claim he will not be entitled to the CGT annual exempt amount (or personal allowance for income tax purposes). [1]

A FIG relief claim will also mean that any non-UK capital losses will be disallowed. [1]

If he does not make a claim, he will be subject to capital gains tax on the disposal of his worldwide assets as they arise. [½]

Your husband will then be subject to capital gains tax in the UK in the same way as you are, from the beginning of the fifth tax year of UK residence. [½]

9. DAPHNE RALF1) Late filing penalty

The penalty is calculated as follows:

- Initial penalty: failure to submit a tax return by the initial deadline (ie 31 January 2025 if filing electronically) will lead to an automatic penalty of £100. [½] This is payable even if no tax is due [½]
- More than three months late: if the tax return is still outstanding after three months the fine may increase by £10 for each day [½] it remains overdue, up to a maximum of £900; [½] Daphne could therefore be fined the maximum of £900 for being more than three months late [½]
- More than six months late: the fine increases by a further £300 or by 5% of the tax due if higher. [½] She will therefore receive a penalty of £500 (ie 5% of the tax due) for being more than six months late [½]
- More than 12 months late: the fine increases by another £300 or by 5% of the tax due if higher. [½] A second charge of £500 therefore applies for being more than 12 months late. [½]

The maximum total penalty for the late filing of the tax return is £2,000. [½]

Tutorial Note:

When calculating the additional penalties due where a return is more than six months and more than 12 months late, the penalty rate of 5% is applied to the net liability to tax of the year, taking into account tax deducted at source. The net liability is not reduced by any amount that has been paid towards this liability.

It is assumed in this question that any income tax liability has been met by tax deducted at source.

Late payment penalty

In addition to the penalties above, Daphne also incurs penalties for being late with her tax payment.

A penalty of:

- 5% of the tax due [½] is charged as the tax payment is more than 30 days late (£500) [½]
- plus a further 5% as more than six months late (£500) [½]
- plus a third surcharge of 5% as the tax payment is more than 12 months late (£500). [½]

Total penalty of £1,500 [½]

Daphne will also be charged interest on all late payments [½] at the rate set by HM Revenue & Customs at the time, as well as interest on the various penalties from the time they were payable. [½]

Max 7

Tutorial Note:

Strictly, the second late payment penalty is due if tax is unpaid more than five months after the first late payment penalty, ie more than five months and 30 days after the due date. Similarly, the third penalty is due if tax is unpaid more than 11 months after the first late payment penalty. However, credit was given for stating they were due if tax was outstanding more than six months and 12 months after the due date.

2) Property income

	£
Rent:
£1,160 x 7 months [6.4.25 – 6.10.25]	8,120	[½]
£1,360 x 5 months [6.11.25 – 6.3.26]	6,800	[½]
	14,920
Expenses:
Repairs	(720)	[½]
Mortgage interest	(Nil)
Conservatory (capital)	(Nil)	[½]
Replacement bed (replacement of domestic items relief)	(450)	[½]
New sofa	(Nil)	[½]
Replacement of kitchen units (treated as repair)	2,300	[½]
Insurance (paid 1 February 2026)	(420)	[½]
Property income	11,030

Relief for the mortgage interest is given by way of a tax reducer at 20% against the income tax liability. [1]

Total 53) Memo to Tom CollinsTax and ethical issues

The proposed joint ownership may reduce the couple's overall income tax liability as Daphne's husband pays tax at a lower rate than Daphne. [½]

Regardless of their actual shares in the property, as they are husband and wife the income will be split 50:50. So each will be taxed on 50% of the rental income. [½]

As long as this is a genuine gift [½] of the property then this is a legal method [½] of reducing their combined tax liability and is not tax evasion. [½]

There would need to be an outright gift of a share of the property to Daphne's husband to effect a genuine transfer of ownership. [½]

On a future sale, the proceeds of sale and any capital gain would be split with Daphne's husband, which may also save CGT on a future sale. [½]

However, this advice is with regard to Daphne's tax position, as we do not act for her husband. [1]

Max 3

Tutorial Note:

If for example, Daphne chose to transfer 95% of the property to her husband, then because they are husband and wife, the rental income will still be split 50:50. However, it is possible to make an election to split income in accordance with their beneficial entitlement. Then Daphne would be taxed on 5% of the rental income and her husband on 95%.

10. ADA

To: Ada
From: Candidate
Date: Today
Subject: Basis of UK taxation

Dear Ada

Although UK residents are generally taxable in the UK on their worldwide income and gains, new residents can usually take advantage of the foreign income and gains ('FIG') regime [1] to exempt their foreign income and gains from UK tax. [1/2]

Employment income

As you have not been UK resident for any of the ten tax years prior to becoming UK resident [1/2], and 2025/26 is one of your first four years of UK residence [1/2], you are a 'qualifying new resident' [1/2] for UK tax purposes from 2025/26. This means that you are eligible to access the FIG regime.

One of the claims available under the FIG regime is for 'foreign employment relief' [1/2], otherwise known as Overseas Workday Relief ('OWR') [1/2].

By claiming OWR, you will pay UK income tax the proportion of your salary related to your UK duties [1/2], whilst the proportion relating to your overseas duties [1/2] will be exempt from UK tax. [1/2]

However, the amount of relief available is subject to the annual financial limit [1/2] which caps OWR to the lower of [1/2] 30% of the qualifying employment income [1/2] and £300,000. [1/2]

Dividend income

A FIG relief claim is also available for other 'qualifying foreign income' [1/2]. This includes the dividends received from Green Ltd as they have a non-UK source. [1/2]

If you make a FIG relief claim for the dividends you will pay no UK tax on them. [1/2]

There is no annual financial limit for general foreign income. [1/2]

Capital gains

The FIG regime also applies to 'qualifying foreign gains' [1/2]. As the Green Ltd shares are shares in a non-UK company, a claim for FIG relief is available for the gain that arose on their disposal. [1/2]

If you make a claim, you will pay no UK tax on the gain. [1/2]

There is no annual financial limit for foreign gains. [1/2]

Claiming FIG relief

As mentioned above, FIG relief is only available for your first four tax years of UK residence, ie for 2025/26 through to 2028/29. [1/2]

A separate claim must be made for foreign employment income, other foreign income and foreign gains. [1/2]

You do not need to make a claim for every year of this four year period [1/2] and you can make a claim for, say, foreign income without also making a claim for foreign gains. [1/2]

However, if you do not make any FIG relief claims for a particular tax year you will pay UK income tax on all foreign income and gains arising in that year. [½]

Claiming FIG relief results in a loss of both your income tax personal allowance [½] and capital gains tax annual exempt amount. [½] Even if you, say, make a foreign income claim only you lose both your personal allowance and annual exempt amount. [½]

Once you have been UK tax resident for four tax years you will no longer have access to the FIG regime and all your foreign income and gains will be taxable in the UK on an arising basis. [½] This will apply to you from the beginning of 2029/30, should you remain UK tax resident up to that point. [½]

Max 12

You would like to use the proceeds from the offshore income and gains to buy a UK property. Irrespective of whether you make a claim under the FIG regime, [½] the proceeds may be brought into the UK as and when required, without a tax charge. [1]

Furthermore, any accumulated income or capital from prior to becoming UK resident can also be brought into the UK without a tax charge. [½]

If you had been UK tax resident prior to 6 April 2025 (before the FIG regime) then a tax charge for bringing income or gains to the UK may have applied, [½] as you could have been taxed on a remittance basis on any pre-6 April 2025 income or gains. [½]

The remittance basis continues to impact so called 'non-domiciled' taxpayers who claimed remittance basis in the past [½] in respect of any pre-6 April 2025 unremitted income or gains. [½]

'Unremitted foreign income and gains' means income and gains arising in a tax year in which the remittance basis was claimed which have not already been taxed in the UK. They are taxed in the year of remittance. [½] However, this does not apply to you. [½]

Max 3

Please let me know if you have any queries.

Candidate

Dear Jayne

LEAVING THE UK

1) The liability to Income Tax

Your liability to income tax will be based on your residency status.

Your residence position will be determined by applying the detailed rules of the Statutory Residence Test (SRT). [½] This is a complex test so I have only outlined below the key aspects that are likely to apply.

It is likely you will remain UK resident in 2026/27, the year of departure, under the '183 day test'. This applies if you spend at least 183 days in the UK in the year. If that is not the case, you are still likely to be UK resident in 2026/27 based on another test - the 'full time' work in the UK test. [1]

As a UK resident, the year of departure may, in some situations, be split into two parts:

- a 'UK' part for which you will be taxed as a UK resident and
- an 'overseas part' for which you will be taxed as a non-UK resident. [1]

2026/27 is likely to be split due to satisfying specific conditions under 'Case 1' of the SRT as you are leaving the UK to start full-time work abroad. In this case the overseas part of the tax year will start on the first overseas workday. [1]

If Case 1 does not apply, the tax year may be split under Case 3 – Ceasing to have a home in the UK, in which case the overseas part of the tax year will start with the day on which you cease to have a home in the UK. [½]

It is likely that you will be non-resident in 2027/28 and future years under the 'work abroad' test as you will have a full-time contract of employment abroad throughout the year. [1]

Total 5

Whilst UK resident you will be liable to income tax on your worldwide income. [1]

Whilst non-resident for a tax year, you will be liable to UK income tax on UK source income only, which will include rental income from the London house. [1]

A personal allowance is available in full in the tax year of departure. Thereafter you will still be able to claim a personal allowance as a non-resident individual who is a British citizen. [1]

Total 33) The basis of calculating rental profits

Income tax will be due on rental profits, calculated as rents received in the tax year less allowable expenses paid. [1] Rental profits will be taxed as non-savings income. [½]

Allowable expenses will include rates, insurance, property maintenance, agent's letting fees and professional fees [1]. If the property is let furnished then any future costs of replacing domestic items on a like for like basis, such as furniture and furnishings will be allowable expenses. [1]

However, improvements to the property are not allowed as an expense against rental income. [1] They can be added to cost of property when calculating any capital gain on disposal. [½]

Some tax relief is available for interest on a loan to purchase the property. Relief is not given as a deduction from rental income but instead the interest is eligible for relief at 20%, given as a reduction in your tax liability. [1]

Rental income must be reported on your self assessment return. If you do not currently submit a return then you will need to notify HMRC. [1]

After the first tax year (when tax is due on 31 January following the end of the tax year) tax will be due via two payments on account based on your prior year liability due on 31 January in the tax year and 31 July after the tax year with a balancing payment on 31 January following the tax year. [1]

In your period of non-residency you would be a non-resident landlord in respect of the London property if you keep it and rent it out. This means that basic rate tax must be deducted by your agent from the net rents received (or by the tenant, if there is no agent). [1]. This can be avoided on application for the non-resident landlord scheme if tax returns are submitted and tax affairs are up to date. [1]

Tutorial Note:

The answer above refers to the non-residents landlord's scheme. This is not a core topic and full marks could have been gained in this part without referring to it. In written questions like this, all relevant points will be rewarded.

4) The potential gain for capital gains tax purposes on the disposal of the house

If the property is sold prior to departure, the full gain is likely to be exempt from CGT due to Private Residence Relief (PRR). [½]

The conditions for PRR are as follows:

- you must occupy the house as your main residence at some point during ownership [½]
- PRR is available for periods of actual occupation, and additionally the last nine months of ownership [½]
- PRR can also be claimed for deemed occupation periods while you are working abroad, but you must reoccupy on return (unless required by terms of employment to reside elsewhere in UK). [1]

The gain on disposal is calculated as proceeds less all costs including the acquisition cost, cost of improvements to the property and any legal fees of buying and selling. [1]

Any gain not covered by PRR is potentially exposed to CGT. There is an annual exempt amount, currently £3,000, that is available to partially shelter such gains. [½]

Any remaining gains are subject to CGT at 18%/24%. 18% is chargeable on gains falling in the basic rate band (after taking account of taxable income) with the balance charged at 24%. [1]

If you sell the property whilst non-resident the gain remains chargeable, as it is a UK property. But in this case only the gain arising since 6 April 2015 would be taxable (subject to PRR for any period of occupancy in UK residency period). [1]

I hope this explains the issues. Please contact me if you wish to discuss matters further.

Joe's address

[Date...]

Dear Joe

Your property sale

If no action is taken the whole of the capital gain arising on the disposal of the London flat will be subject to Capital Gains Tax (CGT) [½]. The gain will be calculated as the difference between the sale proceeds and the acquisition cost [½] and will be taxed at 24%, [½] after deduction of any available annual exempt amount. [½]

The flat is not exempt from CGT as it is only a gain arising on your main residence that is exempt [½]. In the absence of an election [½], your main residence is determined as a matter of fact [½] and, clearly, this is your Cheltenham property [½]. There is, however, the option, within two years of the acquisition of a second property [½], to make an election that one or other of your properties should be treated as your main residence [½] as long as you actually use the chosen property as a residence. [½]

The purchase of your current Cheltenham home in February 2025 is, for these purposes, the acquisition of a second property [½]; you are therefore still within time to make an election to treat the London flat as your main residence. [½]

The election can be backdated to the date of the acquisition of your current Cheltenham property. [½]

The element of the gain arising on your London flat from February 2025 to the date of sale will then benefit from private residence relief and be exempt from CGT. [1]

Max 72) Milton's property sales

The gain accruing on the let residential property [½] after 5 April 2015 [½] will be subject to CGT on disposal.

The gain can be calculated in two ways:

- By default, a value as at 5 April 2015 would need to be obtained and the gain would be the difference between the disposal proceeds and that value. [1]
- Alternatively, and on election by Milton [½], the gain for the whole period of ownership can be calculated as disposal proceeds less acquisition cost and the post 5 April 2015 portion worked out on a straight line time apportionment basis. [1]

The gain will be subject to tax at 24% [½] after deduction of any available annual exempt amount. [½]

The gain arising on the sale of the shop premises will also be subject to CGT as it is UK land and buildings. [½] As it is not residential property, only the gain arising from 6 April 2019 is chargeable. [½] The gain is calculated by a similar default method, taking the difference between the disposal proceeds and the market value at 6 April 2019. There is no option for a time apportionment method for non-residential property. [½]. The gain will also be subject to tax at 24%. [½]

The loss arising on the vacant residential property will be an allowable loss [½] that could be relieved against his other capital gains. The allowable loss can be calculated as described above via the default and elected route [½] but, in addition, there is the possibility to elect for the allowable loss to be calculated as the difference between the sale proceeds and the acquisition cost. This does not require any apportionment to identify just the post-5 April 2015 loss [½]. This last method would appear to be beneficial in this case. [½]

Milton's share sale

As a non-resident individual, Milton's gain on the disposal of the shares in Trainers Plc will not be subject to CGT. [1]

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any queries.

13. VINCENT

Part disposal on receipt of insurance proceeds – 2025/26

	£
Compensation received	120,000	[½]

120,000/(120,000 + 80,000) [1]

Disposal of the cottage 2026/27

	£

Less: Enhancement expenditure	(120,000)	[½]
Gain	159,000

If Vincent had made a claim, he would not be treated as having made a part disposal on the receipt of the insurance proceeds and therefore would not have made a chargeable disposal in respect of the cottage during 2025/26. [½]

Instead, he would have deferred the gain (and the capital gains tax due date) to the following tax year. [½]

This is because he would have been treated as rolling over the insurance proceeds [½] against the original cost of the cottage. [½]

This would have reduced the base cost of the asset to £(165,000 – 120,000) = £45,000. [1]

Total 3*Tutorial Note:

The £120,000 enhancement is then added to the base cost of £45,000. When the cottage is sold for £345,000 the gain will be £180,000 (345,000 – 45,000 – 120,000). Notice that this is the same amount as the two gains split in part 1, which illustrates that the election just defers the gain and CGT payment to a later transaction. However, making the election means that only one annual exempt amount can be used.

Less: Rolled over gain	(5,100)	[½]

Total 3*Tutorial Note:

As the question did not state that the election for rollover was to be made, credit would be given if the gain on the destroyed painting was shown as £7,600 and the base cost of the new painting as £10,000 although it was the examiner's intention that rollover relief would be dealt with and the phrasing of the question was hinting at this.

4) Grant of a short lease out of freehold

2% x £52,000 x 39 years = 'a'	(40,560)	[1]
Income element	11,440

Therefore, the capital element = (£52,000 - £11,440) = £40,560

Total 35) Inter-spouse transfer (May 2025)

Assets are transferred between married couples at nil gain / nil loss, so no gain arises (the connected person rules do not apply). [1]

The value of the asset at the date of the gift is ignored. [½]

Alberta's base cost for future disposal = original cost to Vincent = £5,750. [½]

Connected person transfer to daughter (March 2026)

The normal rule for gifts to connected persons applies. [½] The shares are transferred at market value of £12,000. [½]

A chargeable gain arises on Alberta of £6,250 (£12,000 – £5,750). [½]

Gift relief is not available as they are quoted shares and Alberta owns less than 5% interest. [1]

Business asset disposal relief is not available as Alberta owns less than 5% interest. [½]
In addition, Albert does not work for the company. [½]

Alice's base cost for future disposal = market value at date of gift = £12,000. [½]

The chargeable gain arising is the actual capital profit made [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ], calculated as the difference between the actual sale proceeds received and the cost of the shares. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

The gift relief claim is the balancing difference between the capital gain before reliefs and the chargeable amount. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

Gift relief = £30,030 [ $1\frac{1}{2}$ ]

(13,650 shares x (£5.20 MV – £2.50 Cost) – (£3.00 – £2.50) capital profit)

[Note: Marks are available for the explanation of the calculations, therefore full marks will not be gained if only calculations with no explanation are given.]

Total 3

Tutorial Notes:

The amount per share at each event needs to be calculated as follows to determine that it is a sale at undervaluation:

- MV per share = £5.20
- Cost per share = (£129,000 ÷ 51,600) = £2.50
- Actual SP per share = (£40,950 ÷ 13,650) = £3.00

The gift relief can be directly calculated (as above) or the full computation can be performed as follows:

- Capital gain before reliefs = £36,855 (13,650 shares sold x (£5.20 – £2.50))
- Chargeable gain = £6,825 (13,650 shares sold x (£3.00 – £2.50))
- Gift relief = £30,030 (£36,855 – £6,825)

5) GeorgiaIncome Tax relief

- Georgia can claim relief against her income tax liability for funds used to subscribe for shares in a K Ltd. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- There is an annual investment limit of £1 million for 2025/26. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- The relief is 30% of the amount invested, provided she has sufficient income tax liability to match against the relief. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- Accordingly, the maximum amount of investment relief that can be obtained is £300,000 (30% x £1,000,000). [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- Georgia could invest all £1.5 million and carry back £500,000 of the investment to offset in the previous tax year 2024/25 income tax computation, provided the maximum relief has not been utilised already in that previous tax year. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]
- If the company is a knowledge intensive company, the annual investment relief limit is £2 million for 2025/26, so the maximum investment relief is £600,000. [ $\frac{1}{2}$ ]

Capital Gains Tax relief

- It is also possible to defer capital gains arising on other asset disposals as the sale proceeds are used to invest in EIS shares. [½]
- The deferred gain will only become chargeable when Georgia disposes of her EIS shares. [½]
- On disposal after five years the qualifying EIS shares will be exempt from capital gains tax [½] as they will have been held for at least three years after acquisition. [½]
- If a loss arises on the disposal of the EIS shares, it is an allowable loss but the loss should be reduced by the income tax relief retained. [½]

ETHICS ANSWERS

The references in brackets at the end of the answers are to the 6th edition of the text book "Professional Responsibilities & Ethics for Tax Practitioners".

1. Professional behaviour.

[Chapter 19 section 19.6 para 2.22]

2. The five standards are:

- Client Specific – it must be specific to the particular client's facts and circumstances;
- Lawful – Members must act lawfully and with integrity at all times and expect the same from their clients;
- Disclosure and transparency – All relevant facts must be disclosed to HMRC;
- Tax planning arrangements – Members must not promote tax planning that is set out to achieve results contrary to the intention of Parliament;
- Professional judgement and appropriate documentation – members must exercise professional judgement on a number of matters and keep timely notes.

[Chapter 20 section 20.2 point 1]

3. Any three from Chapter 8, section 8.2, for example:

- Contingent fees can carry increased risks, such as a third party questioning the independence and objectivity of the member. Accordingly, where a contingent fee basis is adopted, a member should take care not only to ensure that their conduct meets, but is seen to meet, the required principles of integrity and objectivity.
- A member should be aware that there may be legal or regulatory restrictions to having a contingent fee.
- It is advisable that where contingent fees are used the engagement letter should set out the scope of the work they cover and stipulate the action to be taken should subsequent events cancel all or part of the benefits to the client of the contingent fee arrangement. It should set out clearly and precisely whether part or the entire fee is to be repaid and whether interest is payable.

4. Having a financial involvement with a client may impair or be perceived as impairing a member's ability to act objectively. Members should exercise care before entering into any kind of financial arrangement with a client. This includes, for example, lending money or investing in the business of a client.

[Chapter 6 section 6.5 para 6.5.1]

5. Engagement letters should be reviewed:

- annually; and
- when the scope of services changes significantly.

[Chapter 4 section 4.10 points 1 and 3]

6. Confidentiality

[Chapter 19 section 19.5 para 2.16]

7. Time and expenses

- Fixed fees
- Contingent (including success) fees
- Insurance

[Chapter 8 section 8.1 para 8.1.2]

8. If an ATT member is to pay a commission, they must disclose to the client:

- the amount and nature of the fee, commission or other reward; and
- the identity of the third party recipient.

[Other valid points will gain credit]

[Chapter 4 section 4.2 para 4.2.1]

9. Any four from Chapter 4 section 4.11, for example:

- (i) Who we are acting for;
- (ii) Period of engagement;
- (iii) Scope of services;
- (iv) AEOI, including FATCA

10. The three choices are:

- To advise both parties of the conflict and to give both the opportunity to consider if they wish to seek alternative representation, or agree that you continue to act for both, if appropriate;
- To act for one client only – normally the one who first sought advice;
- To act for neither party – if the conflict cannot be managed.

[Chapter 6 section 6.4 para 6.4.2]

11. You should:
- 1) Establish the facts – is there an error?
  - 2) If there is an error – is it trivial?
  - 3) If it is not trivial – is specific authorisation required from the client to disclose the error to HMRC?
  - 4) If specific authorisation is required and the client is unwilling to give authorisation, and this is confirmed in writing, you must write to the client explaining the consequences of non-disclosure
  - 5) If client still refuses to authorise disclosure, you are required to cease to act, notify HMRC, and your MLRO/NCA.

[Chapter 23 section 23.2 - flowchart]

12. The application of GAAP does not extend beyond the accounting profits. Thus, the accounting concept of materiality cannot be applied when completing tax filings, for example, when computing adjustments required to accounting figures so as to arrive at taxable profits.

[Chapter 21 section 21.6 points 16-17]

13. Any four from Chapter 7 section 7.2 para 7.2.5, for example:

- Including a clear notice or caveat in the information stating that the advice has been prepared for the client and that no liability is accepted to any third parties who choose to make use of the information.
- Requiring that the client seek consent before information with which the name of member is associated is released by the client to third parties.
- Requiring the third party and/or its advisers to undertake in writing that a member be excluded from liability or held harmless as a consequence of making the information available to them.
- Communicating to the third party the terms upon which the information is released including limitations on scope, stating that the advice was prepared only with the client's interests mind, may not apply in all circumstances, and confirmation that no responsibility is accepted.

14. Any three from:

- receiver
- administrator
- under personal appointment as trustee
- under personal appointment as executor
- under personal appointment as attorney
- under personal appointment as director

[Chapter 21 section 21.11 point 33]

15.

- a) The member is aware of any professional reason why they should not accept the appointment.
- b) The client's affairs are properly dealt with, on a timely basis, and that no filing deadlines, time limits for claims, elections, notices of appeal and other similar matters are missed in the transitional period.

[Chapter 4 section 4.4 paras 4.4.1-4.4.2]

16. Any four from Chapter 4 section 4.3 para 4.3.1, for example:

- Comply with the identification requirements set out in the anti-money laundering/terrorist financing guidance.
- Consider whether the potential client will be an acceptable client in terms of the risks which will arise for the practice from acting for that client and whether the member has the capability to manage those risks.
- Consider whether the member and firm will have the skills and competence to service the client's requirements during the course of the engagement.
- Consider whether there is any conflict of interest in accepting the client and if so whether and how it might be managed.

17. The ATT's rules state that the procedures should ensure that:

- Each new client is informed in writing of the name and status of the person to be contacted in the event of the client wishing to complain about the services provided and of the ability to complain to the Taxation Disciplinary Board (TDB). This information should be included in the engagement letter.
- Each complaint is acknowledged promptly in writing.
- Each complaint is investigated thoroughly and without delay by a person of sufficient experience, seniority and competence who preferably was not directly involved in the act or omission giving rise to the complaint and the client is told about investigation.
- If the investigation finds that the complaint is justified, wholly or in part, any appropriate action is taken.
- Consideration is given as to whether to inform the firm's professional indemnity insurer

[Chapter 9 section 9.1 para 9.1.1]

18. One area of concern is what is covered by the arrangement. Therefore, the member should normally set out the retainer arrangement in writing so that the member and the client clearly understand the extent and limitations of the agreement and the point when further charges may be levied.

The other area for concern is that a member should watch out for conflicts of interest, given that under a retainer, the client can call on that member's services at any time, which may mean that the member may not be able to fulfil their obligations to other clients.

[Chapter 8 section 8.4 paras 8.4.2-8.4.3]

19. You should return it to HMRC as soon as practicable.

You do not need your client's authority to return an excessive repayment but should notify your client that you have done so.

[Chapter 23 section 23.5 point 21]

20. If a member delegates work, the member remains primarily responsible for the work so should exercise sufficient supervision to confirm that the work performed is satisfactory and that it is carried out by persons who have been suitably trained to carry out the work involved.
